

The Story of a Medicine.

Its name—"Golden Medical Discovery"—was suggested by one of its most important and valuable ingredients—Golden Seal root.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that he could, by the use of pure, triple-refined glycerine, aided by a certain degree of constantly maintained heat and with the aid of apparatus and appliances designed for that purpose, extract from our most valuable native medicinal roots their curative properties much better than by the use of alcohol, so generally employed. So the now world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery," for the cure of weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements was first made, as it ever since has been, without a particle of alcohol in its make-up.

A glance at the full list of its ingredients, printed on every bottle-wrapper, will show that it is made from the most valuable medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. All these ingredients have received the highest endorsement from the leading medical experts, teachers and writers on Medicine. Golden Medical Discovery is advised. A little book of these endorsements has been compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and will be mailed free to any one asking same by postal card, or letter addressed to the Doctor as above. From these endorsements, copied from standard medical books of all the different schools of practice, it will be found that the ingredients composing the "Golden Medical Discovery" are advised not only for the cure of the above mentioned diseases, but also for the cure of all catarrhal, bronchial and throat affections, accompanied with catarrhal discharges, hoarseness, sore throat, lingering, or hang-over coughs, and all those wasting affections which, if not promptly and properly treated are liable to terminate in consumption. Take Dr. Pierce's Discovery in time and persevere in its use until you give it a fair trial and it is not likely to disappoint. Too much must not be expected of it. It will not perform miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. It will cure the affections that lead up to consumption, if taken in time.

JIMMIE'S BEAUTIFUL DREAM.

When Jimmie's turn had come to bat
He heard a mighty shout.
The bases were all nicely filled,
And not a man was out.

Jim gave the plate a sounding whack
And caught the pitcher's eye.
The pitcher turned all sorts of shapes,
Then let the spit ball fly.

Jim swung the bat with giant force
And hit the ball just right.
You should have seen it split the air
And disappear from sight.

Then Jimmie started for his run—
He flew just like a bird—
But when he tumbled out of bed
He hadn't got to third.

Belief Stronger Than Ever.

Motorist—By Jove, I always did believe in wireless telegraphy! Now I'm strong for it.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Dictionary of Misinformation.

Aviator—An aeronaut before he drops on something hard.
Cheese—Hard hearted milk.
Dumb Waiter—An automatic waiter.
Deaf Waiter—One who hasn't been tipped.
Icele—A twenty cent piece of ice.
Iceles—Words exchanged between Parsons and Hughes.
Milk—A white liquid usually found on your doorstep by some one up earlier than you.
Milk Punch—A drink the cow would never recognize.—Wex Jones in New York American.

Meteorological.

Little Carleton was a child of the south, having been born in Mexico, and lived there until he came to "the States" with his parents when four or five years of age. But, though unacquainted with the American climate, he had been brought up on good American customs and foodstuffs. The first sight of snow excited him greatly. After looking out of the window earnestly he turned and exclaimed:

"Oh, Aunt Betty, see the popped rain-drops!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Reassured.

"G-g-good evening," said the young man, who had come to speak to the girl's father.
"Good evening," replied the old gentleman. "You look a little nervous. How do you feel?"
"Flattered," replied the young man. "I was afraid I looked scared to death."—Minneapolis Journal.

Real Danger.

"There is the danger signal out on those ropes," warned the life guard.
"And is it really dangerous out there?" asked the bashful youth in the oriole bathing suit.
"Well, I should say so! Sixteen summer girls have proposed to young men out there during the past month. It is leap year, you know."

In the Future.

"Don't be foolish about it," exclaimed the young bride. "He's merely an old flame of mine."
"Indeed!" cried her aged but wealthy husband. "I suppose you dream of his tender advances yet?"
"No," she replied, with a far away look, "not yet."—Catholic Standard and Times.

The String to It.

"Why did you refuse me just now, dear?" said he.
"I wanted to see how you would act," said she.
"But I might have gone without waiting for an explanation," said he.
"I had locked the door," said she.—Harper's Weekly.

Would Be an Objection.

"Does your wife play bridge whist?"
"I don't know," answered Mr. Meekton. "But I don't think so. I understand there are times in the game when you have to keep quiet and let your partner play your hand. I'm sure that wouldn't suit Henrietta."—Washington Star.

Only a Would Be.

Priscilla—There goes that naughty Mrs. Van Horn. She claims to be a prominent woman.
Penelope—Prominent? Pooh! Why, she cannot boast of even one camera being smashed when she appears in public.—Houston Post.

Possibilities of the Game.

"Does it require much physical courage to play baseball?" asked the English visitor.
"That depends," answered Miss Cayenne, "on how big a man the umpire happens to be."—Washington Star.

Economy.

"What's the matter with the manager?"
"Another one of his fits of economy. Two flakes of paper snow blew off into the orchestra, and he's roasting the property man."—Boston Globe.

Change of Scene.

Redd—I suppose you don't go to the same place every day in your automobile?
Greene—Oh, no; we're in a different court nearly every day!—Yonkers Statesman.
"You must try to love your papa as much as he loves you," said the good lady visitor.
"I love him more," replied Tommy.
"Indeed! Doesn't your papa love you very much?"
"Not much. He says he only loves me when I'm good."—Philadelphia Press.

SHORT STORIES.

Everybody in the town of Ortonville, La., owns a motor car, but there are only four families in the place.

Grant was graduated in the class of '43 at West Point—No. 21 in a class of 39. General William B. Franklin was graduated at the head of the class.

There are 101,230 more stockholders in thirty-one leading industrial and railroad corporations in this country than there were before the panic in the fall.

The tunnel through the backbone of the Cordilleras that will connect Valparaiso with Buenos Aires is progressing rapidly. Work is pushed day and night. At the present rate of progress it will be opened in 1910.

It has been found that the new navy pay law, which went into effect May 13, provides no special rate of pay for officers on leave, and one result may be that Civil Engineer Peary will receive full pay, $4,500 a year, during his leave of absence to look for the pole, instead of $2,600.

Church Work.

The formation of a brotherhood association of men in every Methodist church in Cleveland has been taken up.

The Gideons, a Christian organization of traveling men, has raised over $700 to place Bibles in all the hotels of the United States.

Of the fund of $5,350,000 raised by the Wesleyan Methodists of Great Britain less than $3,000 was lost through failure of promises by death or misfortune.

Three new churches started in a single day is the recent record of the Lutherans in Brooklyn, two of them being the work of the Brooklyn Missionary society.

The First Friends' church of Los Angeles has decided to admit to full membership any man, woman or child who is an adherent of the church, and they will thereafter have a part in the conduct of affairs.

The Cat.

Dick Whittington's famous cat made him thrice mayor of London.

According to the Arabians, there was no cat in the garden of Eden.

Mohammed promised a throne in paradise for his beloved cat Muezza.

Cats' eyes serve as clocks for the Chinese, who say the pupils narrow as the sun rises and distend as it sets.

Cardinals Wolsey and Richelieu, stern and haughty men, lavished on their cats an affection accorded no other living thing.

Famous men of letters who immortalized their favorite tabbies were Hugo, Montaigne, Scott, Dr. Johnson, Arnold, Cowper, Chesterfield, Newton and Wordsworth.

Cambyzes, king of Persia, conquered Egypt by causing cats to be carried into battle by his soldiers, who were thus rendered immune by their foes' feline worship.

Facts From France.

Twelve couples have just celebrated their golden weddings at Abrest, a small town near Vichy, France. Three hundred descendants were present at church.

Two French duellists fought the other day for an hour and a half and then had to break off because of the approaching darkness. One of them was scratched on the arm.

After a carousal at the Neuilly fair a man named Roche bet his companions that he would throw himself in front of a motor car. He won his bet, but there is no hope of his recovery.

The prejudice against hospitals is disappearing among the Parisians. At present about one-half of the cases of illness are treated in them, whereas ten years ago the proportion was only one-quarter.

Fly Catches.

Kane, the Cincinnati Nationals' center fielder, weighs only 120 pounds at the plate, but he can sting the ball some.

Manager John J. McGraw of the New York Nationals predicts that Larry Doyle will be the best second sacker in the business in 1909.

Manager McAleer of the St. Louis Americans says that if Pitcher Dode Criss could run he would be one of the best all round players in the business.

It is said that the Boston Nationals were induced to sign Beaumont and Ritchey for the sweetly poetical cadence in the names—Clarence and Claude.

Davy Altizer of the Cleveland Americans has never reached the .300 in batting, though once a top notch hitter, since Cy Young hit him on the head with a pitched ball.

English Etchings.

"Worstedopolis" is the nickname of Bradford owing to its immense wool trade.

Rum is derived from "rumbillion," an old Devonshire term for uproar or rumpus.

The longest pier in England is that of Southend. It is 6,000 feet in length, but it will in time be exceeded by the Minister-on-Sea pier, which is to be when built 7,000 feet long.

According to the Liverpool public librarian, the people who make the most use of the libraries are ladies who have no occupation, students, scholars, bookkeepers, clerks and schoolteachers.

"DO IT TO-DAY!"

"And to think that ten months ago I looked like this! I owe it to German Syrup."

"The time-worn injunction, 'Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day,' is now generally presented in this form: 'Do it to-day!' That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demoralizing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

When Howard Roberts of Turner, Me., heard of the suicide of his brother he had been dumb for two years. The shock caused temporary paralysis. Then he began to whisper, and now his voice has been completely restored.

Why "Deaf as an Adder."

"Deaf as an adder," taken from the "deaf adder that stoppeth her ears" in the Psalms, is founded on an oriental superstition that a serpent presses one ear to the ground while covering the other with its tail—an acrobatic feat that might stump even the wisdom of a serpent, since a snake has no external ear.
